Quality, H&S and Environmental policy

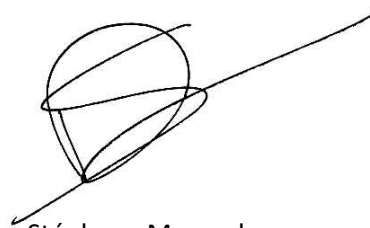

We aim to be a recognised leader in fire safety solutions and life safety systems in buildings, industry and infrastructure.

Our customers trust our products and solutions to perform to their requirements and expectations. To deserve and maintain this trust means we must deliver on our commitments and meet the highest standards of QHSE.

That’s why everyone at Woods Air Movement is dedicated to ensuring that nothing is so urgent or important that we cannot put safety, quality or the environment first at all times.

Our commitments:

- Empower all individuals to confidently voice and address QHSE concerns, including when it requires the suspension of work activities
- Engage openly with our employees, customers, stakeholders and partners on our QHSE performance
- Deliver on our objectives and metrics across the entire organisation
- Manage and proactively mitigate QHSE issues and their impacts throughout our operations, products and services to drive continual improvement
- Always comply with relevant legal and industry requirements
- Continuously protect the environment, prevent pollution, and understand our impact on the world around us
